

Thank you . . .

for helping us train the next generation of family doctors.

NEWSCHOOL
THINKING

At your visit, you may be seen by a medical student or resident. These doctors-in-training, who work with learners from other health professions, are supervised by physicians who are members of the Department of Family and Community Medicine at the University of Toronto.

By receiving your care at a U of T teaching practice, you help to shape the future of Canada's health system, drive better quality care and advance research in primary care. You also receive excellent health care!

Would you like to know about initiatives and opportunities involving DFCM Patient Partners? Subscribe to our newsletter by emailing dfcm.patientpartners@utoronto.ca

dfcm.utoronto.ca

